In his complaint the jeweler stated that the priest entered his store about a year ago and negotiated for the purchase of a diamond. He asked to be allowed to take one of the stones with him to decide whether or not he would keep it. This the jeweler allowed him to do. He did not return with the diamond and the case was put into the hands of Detective Captain Tracey. When the local police were notified yesterday that the time for detaining the priest was almost up the matter was brought to the attention of the prosecutor. There was a question as to whether the case was for the civil refused to pay the costs of extradition the prisoner was released.

Advance in Bolivia.

In probably no other places in the world has the church of Rome such power as in the Province of Quebec and in some countries of South America. That power always weakens before the progress of light and knowledge.

Up until April 11 of last year, the church of Rome enjoyed a monopoly of marriage in Bolivia. People had to submit to her terms or live in concubinage. Many chose the latter.

One young man told a missionary wanted to marry, the church authorities demanded of him $1,000 for liberty to do so. In revolt against such tyranny, Bocivil nuthorities, and allowing the religious ceremony to be performed by any church or sect so soon as the legal requirements had been met.

This marks a great step forward in shaking off the yoke of Rome.
